

From: Bill Ataras
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 2:41am
Subject: do not settle with microsoft

I don't agree with settling this case. microsoft has truly abused their position. An "operating system" does not contain anywhere near the amount of user accessible features that windows does. Only a tiny part of the windows package is an operating system. The rest is software products competing unfairly with other products in the marketplace by being shipped with the underlying operating system.